Grievance Redressal mechanism for Faculty, staff and students

In order to maintain the transparency in taking the feedback on the faculty relevant to teaching learning process, online feedback collecting mechanism using Moodle software is in practice. Through which the students can give their genuine feedback on the faculty on various parameter related to the teaching-learning process. This unbiased feedback taking on faculty helps the Management/HoD's to monitor and prepare the corrective measures on the human resources.

Grievance Redressal mechanism for Faculty, staff and students in the institute has separate grievance redressal cell where Faculty and Students are the members of the grievance redressal cell. The committee comprises of Dean (Administration), Heads of Departments, coordinators and senior faculty members.

In addition, there are other committees like Anti-Ragging Committee, Hostel Committee. Women Grievance Redressal & Empowerment Cell, SC/ST and Minority Students Redressal Committee are functioning in the institution.

In line with the student's grievance redressal, the institution has nominated Chief Proctor who is the liaison member between the stake holders (parents and students) and HoD's/institution. The Chief Proctor ensures the conduction of proctor-students meetings conducted periodically. The report of the meetings to be concised and send to the concerned authorities for the necessary actions within the stipulated time. Women Grievance Redressal & Empowerment Cell monitors the grievances related to women faculty and girl students. The establishment of Anti Ragging Committee is followed according to the orders of the All-India Council of Technical Education, New Delhi.

Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC): It is a centralized body that looks into quality enhancement measures on the various activities handled by the institution. IQAC facilitates overall development of the students by creating student's centric learning environment by providing quality education.

● Establishment of Online Grievance Redressal Mechanism (internal)

To ensure the transparency in collecting the grievance among the stake holders, online grievance redressal mechanism is in place. The stake holders (students, parents and faculty/staff) are informed about the grievance handling mechanism by displaying the contents through institution website, display/notice boards established in the prominent places in the campus. The grievances can be emailed to hr@cittumkur.org and grievance@cittumkur.org.
